III. Purpose and legal basis of the processing

Our building is under video surveillance. You can recognize the areas under video surveillance by the video surveillance signs. These contain the essential information on video surveillance. You can access this data protection information via the QR code shown there.

The basis for processing is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR in conjunction with Section 4 BDSG. Our legitimate interest in video surveillance lies in the prevention and repression of criminal offenses such as theft, burglary and vandalism, the exercise of domiciliary rights, the protection of our employees and customers and the preservation of evidence in the event of an incident.

Recordings are stored for up to 72 hours. The recordings are then deleted at the latest.

IV. Categories of recipients

We share your personal data with other recipients who provide services for us in connection with video surveillance, insofar as this is permitted or required by law. In doing so, we limit the disclosure of your personal data to what is necessary. In some cases, our service providers receive your personal data as processors and are then strictly bound by our instructions when handling your personal data. In some cases, the recipients act independently with your data that we transfer to them. Personal data is not processed in third countries outside the EU/EEA.

Below we list the categories of recipients of your personal data

- IT service providers for the operation of video surveillance,
- Service providers who support us, for example, in the assertion of our rights,
- Law enforcement authorities for the investigation of criminal offenses,
- public bodies and institutions insofar as we are legally obliged to do so.

V. Consent to the provision of data

You are not obliged to provide us with data in connection with video surveillance. However, it is not possible to enter the monitored areas without being recorded.

VI. Automated decision-making

We do not use any procedures for automated decision-making or any profiling procedures (automated analysis of your personal circumstances).

VII. Rights of data subjects

You have the following rights vis-à-vis us, which you can assert vis-à-vis the office named in Section II. or our data protection officer:

- Right to information: You are entitled to request confirmation from us at any time within the scope of Art. 15 GDPR as to whether we process personal data concerning you; if this is the case, you are also entitled within the scope of Art. 15 GDPR to receive information about this personal data and certain other information (including processing purposes, categories of personal data, categories of recipients, planned storage period, your rights, the origin of the data, the use of automated decision-making and, in the case of third country transfer, the appropriate guarantees) and a copy of your data.
- Right to correction: In accordance with Art. 16 GDPR, you are entitled to demand that we correct the personal data stored about you if it is inaccurate or incorrect.
- Right to deletion: You are entitled, under the conditions of Art. 17 GDPR, to demand the immediate deletion of your personal data. The right to deletion does not apply, among other things, if the processing of personal data is necessary for (i) the exercise of the right to freedom of expression and information, (ii) to fulfill a legal obligation to which we are subject (e.g. statutory retention obligations) or (iii) to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

- Right to restriction of processing: You are entitled to demand that we restrict the processing of your personal data under the conditions of Art. 18 GDPR.

In addition, our interests may conflict with the termination of processing, so that we are entitled to process your personal data despite your objection.
- Right of revocation: You have the right to revoke your consent at any time. The revocation is only effective for the future; this means that the revocation does not affect the legality of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent until the revocation.
- Right to file a complaint with a supervisory authority: You have the right to file a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of your habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement if you consider that the processing of personal data relating to you infringes the GDPR, subject to the conditions of Art. 77 GDPR. The right to file a complaint exists without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy. You can contact the data protection authority responsible for us at:

This also applies to profiling based on this provision within the meaning of Art. 4 no. 4 GDPR.

If you file an objection, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims.

If we also process your personal data for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to file an objection at any time to the processing of your personal data for the purpose of such advertising; this also applies to profiling insofar as it is associated with such direct advertising. If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, the personal data will no longer be processed for these purposes.

The objection can be filed in any form and should be sent to the above address if possible.
